

LIFE SUPPORT BELT (2269-2271)

Specifications: Size varies depending on the wearer's waist size; up to 1 kg.

Duration/Energy: 4 hours.

Effect: Character's wearing an LSB do not suffer the -2 penalty to Physical Tests (as with an EVA suit), but gives the wearer a +20 TN penalty to conceal self.

Protection: Offers full cover and absorbs 25 points of both physical and energy damage.

Description: This wide, thick belt provides its wearer with air, temperature and heat regulation for up to four hours. It generates a glowing greenish-yellow force field around the wearer, and can be used like the more bulky EVA suit in space, in hostile environments and underwater. Its main draw back, aside from the fact of its vulnerability. A major impact can cause the belt to malfunction and fail, and thus is not used in combat situations. The belt is somewhat experimental and is used by Federation personnel on board larger ships.
